Enhanced LifeStart Neonatal Resuscitation Unit launched at Medica

Inspiration Healthcare Group plc (AIM: IHC), the global supplier of medical technology for critical care, operating theatre and other medical applications, announced today at MEDICA, the world's leading trade fair for the medical industry taking place in Duesseldorf, the official launch of its enhanced LifeStart neonatal resuscitation unit.

This new, enhanced version of the LifeStart provides clinicians the capability to clamp the cord at the optimal time with optional patient warming and resuscitation using the Inspiration Healthcare developed Inspire rPAP resuscitation and stabilisation system. The LifeStart also now includes the ability to secure air and oxygen bottles for improved manoeuvrability.

The enhanced unit is currently undergoing its certification process for the EU and USA which the Company expects to be completed in the next few weeks. It has been well received in pre-launch introductions to clinicians and distributors around the world. Inspiration Healthcare is confident that the LifeStart can be successfully sold into a number of its existing and new accounts particularly in the USA and Middle East.

Commenting today, Neil Campbell Inspiration Healthcare's Chief Executive Officer said:

"The Company is continuously developing its products and looking for ways to improve medical outcomes, so we are very pleased to launch this enhanced version which combines the latest technology and medical understanding, and has been developed by the Company in collaboration with some of the world's leading experts in the neonatal field."

"The feedback from potential and existing customers who have seen the enhanced version of the LifeStart has been very encouraging and we are confident that we can now push into new markets and in particular territories such as the USA and Middle East where we believe the prospects are very good"
